Ramdev claims to be able to cure just about any disease, including cancer but not AIDS. View 1 comment. Creationism and proselytising atheism keep each other in business. His discoveries point out, not so much how different they are, but how alike we are. Tragic heroes, at a certain point, realize they're doomed. Not quite what I was expecting but enjoyable none the less. Or at least that's the story as Storr has crafted it, which, you'll see if you're on a tour of Holocaust sites with famed denier David Irving and a band of neo-Nazis, experiences his own murder during "past life regression" hypnosis, discusses the looming One World Government an iconic climate skeptic, and investigates the tragic life and death of a woman who believed her parents were high priests in a baby-eating cult.
